

RAINDROPS TO CLOUDS SONG (SIMPLIFIED)

(Sing to the tune of Eensy-Weensy Spider)

By Chris Geiselhart

Eensy weensy raindrops fell down from the clouds
Gathered together—and flowed all around,
Formed into streams, rivers, and lakes.
Flowed to the ocean, they sure had what it takes.
Out came the sun and changed the water then
It turned back to vapor—and started the cycle again.

EXPANDED RAINDROPS TO CLOUDS SONG

(Sing to the tune of Eensy-Weensy Spider)

By Chris Geiselhart

Eensy weensy raindrops
Fall down from the cloud.
Land on the earth and
Mo-ove all around.

Out comes the sun and
Drops evaporate
And rise up to the sky
Where they will condensate.

Gather all together
Within that great big cloud
Then fall back to earth
And start all over again.
